

US Navy Band Director

LEUTENANT ANTHONY A. MITCHELL, Assistant Conductor of the World Famous United States Navy Band, will again be in the featured spotlight of conducting, when the Band presents Matinee and Evening Concerts in Belle Glade on Tuesday. He served as Assistant Conductor on both the 1960 and 1961 Spring Concert Tours, thus is no stranger to American audiences. Brilliant clarinet virtuoso

Anthony A. Mitchell, has been hailed by critics and audience alike through every State of the Union.

Leutenant Mitchell is one of those rare talented individuals who is equally facile with the baton or the clarinet. He was selected as solo clarinetist with the United States Navy Band in 1945 and soon became conductor of the Navy Dance Band, needed for so many special appearances in Washington, D. C.

31 Prisoners And $8,000 Bail In Sheriff's Raid On Gambling

Deputy Verne Clark was informed by an undisclosed source, that an establishment at 443 Lake Avenue in Pahokee was used as a wide open gambling establishment.

At a predetermined time he and Deputy Reeser entered the front door and found several tables of "skin" and other popular gambling games going on in the open.

When the raid was ended thirty one prisoners were in hand, each with $100 bond. Later, on more detailed information Johnnie Glenn was taken in a warrant for operating a gambling house and hit with a $5,000 bond.

Thirty of the prisoners will be tried Friday in the Glades Magistrate's Court and Johnnie will face a trial in the "Court."

If We Get Them They'll Take 'Em

L. L. Price reports that on Wednesday morning he had calls for fifteen apartments for new folks coming into the community.

Fifteen were disappointed, for there were no acceptable accommodations.

PHA would finance apartments.

IF WE HAD SEWERAGE! PHA would finance group housing.

IF WE HAD SEWERAGE! PHA would finance sewerage.

AOE! The City Commission, and they're busy now trying to secure low cost long term financing for more sewerage!

When you see one encouraging him in his efforts.

Democratic Primary ---

Roberts, Thomas, Rogers, Unopposed

Closest to the people in history, and apparently the most successful career, State Representatives Roberts, Thomas, and Rogers, and Congressional Representative Paul Rogers may devote their campaigning for votes to Republican opposition.

Roberts is offering for his fifth term as a representative of the Glades area of Palm Beach County, while Jerry Thomas is proposing a second term as county representative.

Rogers apparently has established himself with Democrats as a worthy son of an illustrious father.

The only published statement by county republican opponents indicates that the political coalition of ousted Sheriff Kellenberger is the substantial reality.

Engineer Reich apparently holds that there is an affinity between his profession and that of Florida politics in the House at Tallahassee.

Realtor Paul Bebout, Jr. of Boca returns to a previous effort of Republicans to get Emmett Roberts.

Republicans will most likely weep long and moaningly at lumberman Kellenberger's plight as a mistreated elected representative of the PEEPU, who has been mistreated by a Democratic Governor.

Democrats may rely heavily on the report of Palm Beach County's Grand Jury report of Mr. Kellenberger's tour of "Right."

Records of performance and qualifications of candidate for Representative may not be at issue in their election.

A retired Army officer in Ft. Lauderdale wants to return of constitutional government to the people with him as a part of a Republican team.

When reminded of Look's round-up of rightmost spokesmen Mr. Kibbee, the retired army man, admitted that his qualifications as described in Look only the statement that he is a "good, jolly, and fit" man.

Look only wanted to belittle those working on the "RIGHT."

He apparently intends he is to "Right."

Missing Woman Found In Lauderdale Canal

The Sheriff's department of Broward County reports the finding of the body of Evelyn Edward, 37, of Belle Glade in the Ft. Lauderdale Canal west of the City of Ft. Lauderdale Sunday morning.

The light colored Falcon which the victim was driving when she left home in Belle Glade was found on Monday morning by the sheriff's men.

B. Edward, father of the woman reported missing when she failed to show up at her regular place of employment in Miami Beach on February 28th.

The Belle Glade police department gave a state-wide alarm for the missing woman when the regular time had elapsed after she was last seen.

The Broward Sheriff's office reports that apparently the woman left asleep, or for some other reason lost control of her car and plunged into the canal.

Mothers' March In Glades $1290

The Mothers' March of The National Foundation took place the last of January as is traditional. It was handled in Belle Glade by the Jay-C-Cities under the leadership of Mrs. Horace Harris. The Mothers' March together with the "males" raised in $12,420 for South Bay and Lake Harbor, under the leadership of Mrs. Jane B. Evans, collected $124.06 and $69.38 respectively. Pahokee and Canal Point raised $552.04. This made a total of $1290.68 from the Glades.

Mrs. Ruth Benham, Campaign Director for the Palm Beach County Chapter of the Foundation, reported that something over $31,000 was raised in the county during the recent campaign, and expressed her thanks to the Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association and Mrs. Helen Morris and her committee who acted as receiving agent for the funds.

The Executive Board of the Foundation's Palm Beach County Chapter held its annual meeting on February 27 and among other items of business elected Mrs. Jane B. Evans of Bean City and Mrs. William S. Plummer of Pahokee to serve on its Honorary Board of Directors. Mrs. R. V. Allison of Belle Glade, who has served on the Executive Board for the past three years was re-elected. The board expressed its appreciation to all who helped in the recent drive, and to those who made contributions.

Seven Digit Telephone Numbers For Pahokee-Canal Point Area

Southern Bell Telephone Company's plans to convert all telephone numbers in the Pahokee-Canal Point area will conclude when the new numbering plan goes into effect April 15th, 1962.

All numbers will take on a new look," Bob Lee, manager for the company, reports "Every number will be made up of seven digits beginning with 924, in place of the three and four digit numbers presently in operation." Most of the existing numbers will be just as they are with the addition of the numbers 924 while others will be changed completely.

Hoover Dike Work

Bids will be opened April 5 in Jacksonville on a 13-mile section of the Herbert Hoover Dikes, which are being raised to permit storage of greater quantities of water, District Engineer, Colonel J. V. Solihub said. The levee, from a point about two miles southeast of hurricane gate 2 near Clewiston, northwesterly to the Caloosahatchee Canal at hurricane gate 1 at Moore Haven, will be raised two to six feet, depending upon ground elevations.

Estimated cost of the work is $400,000 and the successful bidder will be allowed 45 calendar days to complete the job. Some 1,110,000 cubic yards of soil will be dug from the shoreward side of the dike, and the material will be used to raise the height of the Hoover Dikes.

Bids on another section of the dike were rejected last week and have been readvertised for opening on March 22. Other contracts will be awarded for the remaining levee heightening jobs.

The local Chamber of Commerce, attempting to push the matter along by demonstrating civic endorsement, invited 30 leading civic groups to a meeting to bring a definite plan before the City Commission for an additional bridge across the Hillsboro.

Three replies were received! Maybe we don't need, we want another bridge.

On Tuesday night, when the 78th reservation from Glades sugar farmers was listed and paid for in Miami Beach, it was estimated that more than that number from other sections of the state had made reservations by sugar-quota friends through the state.

Governor Bryant and each member of his Cabinet have expressed to the Delegation the importance of this 140 million dollar industry - value of land, crops machinery and processing facilities for 140,000 acres.

Harold Cole, Executive Vice president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, reports full cooperation from Chambers of Commerce.

Automobile dealers of the State know just how many cars and trucks the Florida Sugar industry buys and have told Washington by wire and phone.

Insurance Agencies, cement producers and wholesalers didn't have to refer to books to know the great volume of business coming from the sugar industry, and they spoke in definite voice.

Leading dailies of the state on editorial pages and in general space to news stories are supporting this plea for maintenance and orderly growth of this 15-20 million dollar annual payroll for agricultural products.

It is certain that President Kennedy will know that a lot of Florida's voters, and important ones, think SUGAR PRODUCTION IS A MOST IMPORTANT STATE - WIDE POLITICAL QUESTION.

Local "ram-rod" has come thru the offices of the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board and Art Kish, it's manager, with the "green light" - GO - GO - GO from President Tom Fleming of Boca Raton.

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much size? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury in a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? 4-H Club Activities and Awards

Boys and girls who have done outstanding work in their projects and in their clubs during the year are eligible to receive awards and honors. The most popular award for the younger members is the annual summer camp. Palm Beach County camps at one of the newer 4-H camps in the state. It is Camp Cloverleaf, near Sebring, Florida. Here the members stay for one week. They have swimming, boating, crafts, learn new songs, and participate in camp ceremonies. This year the week for camp will be June 18. The camp is joint, with both boys and girls attending. Leaders and agents also attend. The girls who complete three projects and have scored 85 or above on their projects are eligible to go.

For the girls and boys who are 14 or older, their special award is the annual State 4-H Short Course. Those courses are held during the week of June 11. The boys course is held at the University of Florida at Gainesville and the girls travel to Tallahassee to Florida State University. This is a grand week of fun and fellowship as well as a learning experience. The teenagers live in the college dormitories, find out what a college campus is like, attend classes as a college student. They meet girls and boys from other areas of the State. They also hear prominent speakers in the various assemblies and gatherings during the week. Certain requirements must be met to qualify for this trip.

There are county events held during the year also. Just completed were the activities in the South Florida Fair. There were many more participants this year than ever before. The 4-Hers won ribbons and premium money for their fine efforts.

Council meetings are held during the year also. The 4-H county councils are composed of representatives of the many clubs in the county. They discuss county plans, learn new songs, get acquainted with other 4-H club members in the different parts of the county. Each council elects their own officers. The girl's council president this year is Linda Day of Lantana and the boy's council president is Burton Ashton of West Palm Beach.

Toward the end of the year, members are given pins for their year of membership. The best projects in the county are awarded with a medal. Valued support of the 4-H program is given by the many companies who donate the medals for the different projects. Many companies provide out of state trips for the National 4-H Club Conference and National 4-H Club Congress. These trips are awarded to the outstanding project winners in each state. These are available to 4-Hers 15 or older.

The church meeting at 252 N. W. Avenue D wishes to take this opportunity to chat with our brothers and sisters in Christ for a moment.

Have you ever considered how valuable you are to the Lord? In the Parable of the Talents in Matthew 25:14-30 we get the lesson that the Lord is depending on you to do His work, by being present at all services of the church and using the talent, or talents, He gave you. We believe you aren't going to let the Lord down. We will look for you at all the authorized services this Lord's Day.

Have you ever considered how valuable the church is to you, and how important it is to be ready when the Lord returns? In the same chapter of Matthew 25:1-13 we get the lesson that some Christians "will be lost because they have left their lamps out. The church meeting at Avenue D has some extra "oil" and will be glad to help you refill your "lamps" and give you some extra oil for your "vestments." The Lord loves you and needs you! Won't you come and help us and let us help you?

Christians are the foundation of society; in fact, Jesus said they are "the light of the world." Society depends on us to set the moral standards that are right and respectable. We are to this by preaching the gospel of Christ, helping those in need and living a clean consecrated life in the Lord's service. By doing this the world will be made a better place to live in, we will be happier in this life and eternal life will be ours.

We also extend a warm welcome to all the people of this area to meet with us at all of our services.

Dr. Hartz Tells Pastor's Role In Mental Health, Family Problems

Dr. Edwin Hartz, Ph. D., of Florida State University, lecturer in the FPA-sponsored "Family Life Institute" series in the Belle Glade High School, met with the Belle Glade Area Ministerial Association last Tuesday at a luncheon in the conference room at Cottage Grill. Himself an ordained Methodist clergyman, Dr. Hartz was specially interested in discussing the pastor's role in dealing with mental health and family problems.

The minister counsels with three times as many mentally disturbed folk as any other two professional groups put together, said Dr. Hartz, yet is often next to last in professional training for such work. Most seminars are aware of this increasing need and are taking steps to better the training of the clergy in this area, and many theological schools have long since instituted programs for such studies. However, the clergyman is always a minister first and only secondarily a professional counselor, Dr. Hartz cautioned, and must always keep that perspective. Nonetheless, professional methods are within his reach and bring the most effective help, he continued.

Particularly vital in pastoral counseling is pre and post-marital counseling. The minister who marries the couple has a duty to tell them that every marriage sooner or later hits an impasse, a place where two people find out the real truth about each other and themselves. No two folk can live together all the time without some areas wherein they must admit they deeply disagree. Persons unable or unwilling to communicate their deeper thought and feelings at such a time react in different ways: refusal to speak, fighting, ulcers, or drinking may result. Dr. Hartz recommended that a couple-time be asked to decide ahead of time what they will do when this occurs. Take a bit more time to listen to the other; perhaps lower your demands; for you're not perfect yourself; often plain, old-fashioned compromise will help.

Also important is the necessity of discovering how well the two each know the other, and his respective background, character, and family. And again, will both be continuing to grow socially, spiritually, educationally? One partner's stagnation while the other grows on usually results in separation of interests, affections, and finally of themselves.

Dr. Hartz concluded by recommending several pertinent books, and was roundly applauded by the assembled clergymen.

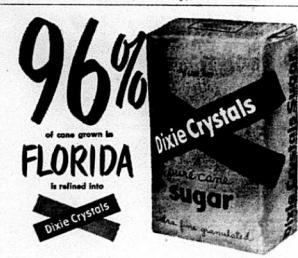

CARD OF THANKS

To all the thoughtful friends who remembered me with cards, visits and flowers during my days at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital I extend a sincere thank you. My appreciation too, to the kind and skillful doctors for the fine care given me.

TO BILLY PIERCE

(Editor's note: This poem is dedicated to Billy Pierce for all the poems he wrote for her by Linda Levine.)

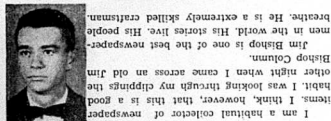

"The Little Green Dog"

Once I had a little green dog.
Because of his color, I called him "Frog."
He was quite an extraordinary fellow.
He didn't like green, he wanted to be yellow.
He ate buttercups, lemon drops, or anything colorful as such.
Why, he even ate a crissles brand-new, yellow crutch.
Yellow, yellow, yellow, anything yellow he would eat.
He even devoured our neighbor's parakeet.
I use a tanning lotion to cover

my skin, you see;
For I'm a Chinese and don't want his next dinner to be me.
One day, I took a bath and left him locked up.
That yellow rope couldn't hold him, no, not that pup.
He followed my trail, upstairs to the tub.
He hopped in, wagging his tail with love.
As he jumped in, there was a big splash!
I rinsed off my soap off, right in his chops with delight.
His eyes got real big and he licked his chops with delight.
And the day that I died I put up a heck of a fight.

THE LAW OF HATE

The column I picked up was titled: "Justice is the Word and We Must Respect It."

In this Mr. Bishop told of his interview with an expert on the Eichmann trials and Nazism in general. They talked about Anti-Semitism. Anti-Semitism is the disease which made Adolf Hitler the scourge of Europe and Eichmann the mass murderer of all history.

Anti-Semitism is a term which means unremitting opposition to the Jews. It is a symptom of a man's dissatisfaction with himself.

There is something inside of him that he cannot tolerate. Rather than face it, he turns his hatred outward against others: Jews, Chinese, Catholics, Negroes, Puerto Ricans any group. The Jews were a good target because they were a minority in each country and preferred to live apart from the rest of the community.

The psychiatrist said that hate can make a little man feel big. He said that he thought that what the world lacks is respect for justice toward all men. Amen to that.

Adolph Hitler did not know the meaning of justice.

The extermination of Jews was but one step in his plan. Step two was to abolish Christianity. His plan was to kill Judaism first because it is the root of Christianity. Once the root was dead and assuming that his armies were victorious, Hitler proposed to outlaw all Christian churches.

He proposed to replace Christ with the old Wagnerian gods of mythology—Odin and Thor. Hitler planned to be chief god himself, and have all Europe pray to him. The psychiatrist told Mr. Bishop that he had seen the prayers. They had been printed before the tide turned against Germany. Notice the similarity here with Fidel Castro and his "prayers for Cuban children."

It sounds insane, of course. But is it more insane than that to plan to kill 6,000,000 Jews for no other reasons than that they were helpless?

All people still haven't learned as much from the example of Hitler as they should have. George Lincoln Rockwell is still determined to turn the United States into a sort of hell for Jews and those who disagree with his twisted Nazi ideas. As the expert in Mr. Bishop's column said we must respect for justice toward men. All men.

Whether we like to admit it or not, prejudice and bigotry are still strong in America today. But our ability to recognize our prejudices is the first step in ridding ourselves of them.

I hope and think that someday soon we will all echo the words of the great humanitarian lawyer, Clarence Darrow. They reverberate even more loudly today than ever before through the corridors of time. "I do not believe in the law of hate."

Basketball Team Finishes Fourth In Suncoast

Belle Glade's tiny hustlers gave the fans of Belle Glade their money's worth in all their home appearances.
The Rams wound up with only a 7-9 record but except for a few breaks could have been better.
They finished in fourth place in the eight-team conference.
The Rams were well respected around the league. They never gave up. Four boys carried the scoring lead for the Rams. They were Ward, Johnny and Tommy Bass, and Robert Rabara. Ward and Johnny Bass were among the top ten scorers in the Suncoast. Ward would have finished higher than his eighth position but he left the last Riviera Beach game via the foul route in the first quarter. Johnny Bass could have helped the cause more, except for missing the last three games because of illness.
Rabara was a dependable scorer and did some fine rebounding. Tommy Bass, although not always a high scorer, always drew the toughest defensive assignments. As in football, he was a valuable person to have around.
All in all it was an interesting year. There were some healthy rows with the referees. Belle Glade's dependable rooting section are pros at that. This was Belle Glade's upset of co-champ Riviera Beach before the homefolks. It was one of the finest high school basketball games anyone will see. The boys did themselves proud.

Moscow Weekly Report

By Waynechev Woodelytov and Tommhav Moblieks

Greetings Comrades:
We've received many letters during the past weeks wondering if our valiant Cosmonauts are suffering any ill effects, since they haven't been mentioned in any of the propaganda pages, recently. Have no fear; they are all doing excellently. In fact, one has grown a third arm and four more toes since he returned. Let's see the Americans top that one!

For those of you who missed taking part in the big demonstration in Japan during Robert Kennedy's tour there last week we are planning an even bigger and better one when his big brother goes to Europe next month. If you aren't sure your supply of propaganda posters, rotten eggs, and bottles of ink will be sufficient to last for a good two hour riot, be sure to stop by your local party headquarters and pick them up. Let's everyone get out and make this the best demonstration since the Revolution of 1918.

Another of our Hero Medal of Valor is Cryman Snavagunovitch a ham radio operator, who was responsible for the capture of the U.S. spy pilot last year. He was practicing his violin lessons while the plane was flying over his tenement apartment. His radio set happened to be tuned into the same wave length as the stupid American pilot's. Although he didn't realize it at the time, his violin music was being broadcast into the cockpit of the spy plane, and it made the pilot so sick that he completely lost control of the plane and crashed.
It is only through brave, cunning, and heroic deeds such as this one that we are winning the Cold War against Yankee imperialism.

CONDOLENCES

Every one of us at Belle Glade High School wish to express our deepest sympathy to our fellow classmate, Roger Fields, who was taken from us too soon. May we each in some small way help ease your sorrow.

Teacher of Week

Miss Betty Echols
By Sharon Motes and Margaret Townsend

Guess who was formerly a student of our big rival Pahokee? She was a sponsor in the Belle Glade-Pahokee football game, a cheerleader, member of the Student Council and the Beta Club, and puts Italian spaghetti at the top of her food list.

Still can't guess? It's Miss Echols, well-known to all the students by her red hair, black impala, and her hard teeth.

Miss Echols taught English and Social Studies in Okeechobee last year, and we're glad we have her this year.

Her pet peeve, not uncommon among teachers is "Students who never hear an assignment the first time that it's given."

More than 1,750,000 tourists visited Florida's Silver Springs during 1961.

Speech Contest At B. G. High School

Belle Glade High School students are busy talking in class these days. What's more, they are being praised for it. Among those to win particular recognition in the recent speech contest were the following: In dramatic readings, first-place winner, Linda Rabara; second, Darry Wood and third, Gloria Smith. Close behind were Renny Connell, Linda Levine Mary Mathewson, and Jackie Croft.

In humorous readings Joan Bearden took first place with Billy Pierce winning second. Gail Masonic was third place winner.

The competitive poetry Wayne Wood took first place, Sheila Rustin took second, and Francis Ball won third.

The competitive event took place in the high school auditorium on February 27, with the following judges: Rev. Edward Straner of Northside Chapel; Mr. Ben Painter, business teacher; and Mrs. J. C. Herrod, teacher of English.

Because preliminary contests had caused quite a sensation about the campus, there was a good attendance for the final round. To explain the "sensational" there was the day when

Mr. Bower's dog is at school so much that they're going to give him a diploma.

Certain people have been seen dancing in the bowling alley parking lot. What gives?

Mr. Litchfield doesn't want to be out-done by Mrs. Rogers; he's going to start standing on the corner checking if the boys' pants are long enough.

Confidential to all BGHS students: don't say the word "Bells" around Wayne Wood if you don't want to see a high school student cry.

Billy Pierce has announced that he may soon heck his pool cue and take up violin lessons.

The judges at the WPB speech contest were a bunch of red and yellow radishes. Rob Rabara, Tom Close, Ironhead Kruse, and Bert Davis will soon release their new recording "Sing Along with Rob."

Larry Thornburg is being sent by the US government to Italy to straighten up the Leaning Tower of Pisa.

After more than four class periods of student participation in both humorous and dramatic readings before such judges as Mrs. Ben Painter, former teacher; Mr. W. K. Fortenberry, DCT instructor; and Mr. Bert Ward, industrial arts teacher, scores were tallied and high scorers moved on to another round of competition, this time the night program with the public invited.

Those participating were as follows: With dramatic readings, Renny Connell reading Clarence Darrow's "Plea for Mercy," Jackie Croft with a sentimental "Do Unto Others," and Gloria Smith presenting an excerpt from Ibsen's "Ghosts." Linda Rabara reading Johnson's "Go Down Death," Mary Mathewson with an excerpt from Bulwer-Lytton's "Last Day of Pompeii," Darry Wood giving Patrick Henry's famous speech, and Linda Levine with a touching reading called "Rosa."

Humorous readings included Joan Bearden's presentation of "Isn't Nature Wonderful," Billy Pierce's "I Got a Name" by Zackerly Gold and Gail Masonic's "She Phones Her Husband."

In addition to speech students, three eleventh graders entered the final round of competition — Francis Ball with Johnson's "Creation," Sheila Rustin with the same poet's "Go Down Death," and Wayne Wood with Poet's "The Bells."

Now fourteen students, including Ann Murray and Eddie Whitlock, whose ratings were also high in humorous readings, will journey to Palm Beach Junior College for the county tournaement and, they hope, more first-place honors.

Deposit-Free Motor Oils Now Available

Standard Oil Stations are now offering Southern motorists a line of revolutionary new motor oils, it is announced today by W. C. Smith, president of Standard Oil Company (Kentucky).

Sold under the brand name RPM, these new motor oils contain an ashless detergent that halts engine wear, Smith stated. This detergent leaves no ash deposits; keeps combustion chambers clean and moving parts free of sludge so that engines perform better, last longer and require less maintenance.

"These new RPM oils have been thoroughly road-tested in other marketing areas and millions of miles customer drive-ins have proved that ashless detergents do a remarkable job of halting engine wear," the Standard spokesman said.

With the introduction of new RPM Motor Oils, Standard's retail outlets will offer the only complete line of deposit-free oils in the South.

Golf Match Arranged For All FF & V Meet

The Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association will hold its second Annual Golf Tournament on September 17, preceding the 19th Annual Convention of the Association at Miami Beach, on September 18-21, 1962, according to J. Abney Cox, Princeton, president of the Association.

"It was generally felt that the tournament preceding last year's Convention was an outstanding event and that it should be repeated."

"We are pleased to announce that the LeGore Country Club has again invited the Association to use the club's facilities for this tournament."

"Participation in the tournament is limited to persons registered for the Convention. Those who wish to participate may indicate their desire in advertisements of Convention registration by simply writing to the Chairman, Golf Tournament at FFVA offices in Orlando," Cox said.

Shell dealers suggest 10 ways to cut car repair bills

Your car is probably the second biggest single investment you'll ever make. Here are 10 pointers from Shell that can help you protect that investment. They're easy to follow. And they might well save you a lot of trouble, as well as needless expense.

1. Check your cooling system hose for weak spots. Inspect all of the rubber hoses that interconnect your cooling system. If they are cracked, cut or swollen, they could give way at any time and cause engine temperature to soar. The result: a troublesome breakdown. Less serious, but a potential cause of overheating, is a debris-clogged radiator. Ask your Shell dealer to use his air hose to clear away clutter on the outside of your radiator.
2. Touch up scratches before rust sets in. You can discourage the spread of rust by using touch-up paint on body scratches. Rust also likes to plug drainage holes on the underside of car doors and body panels. Keep those holes open (a screwdriver or any pointed instrument works fine) and you may well prevent a rusted-through door or body section.
3. Avoid 100-foot trips. It's a mean trick to start a cold car, drive it just a few feet, then turn it off. Yet people often park in front of their homes, then drive into the garage later on. This can increase engine wear, dilute your oil with unburned fuel and give sludge more chance to form. If at all possible, drive right into the garage when you arrive home.
4. Look for oil streaks on inner walls of tires. It may take a bit of back-bending, but it's well worth the effort to check the side of your tires you seldom see—the side facing in. If there's any sign of leaking fluid on tire walls, tell your Shell dealer. A leaking brake cylinder or rear axle oil seals could be at fault. Either can lead to extensive repairs if not corrected right away.
5. Obey the cardinal rule of car care. A professional lubrication job is still the best way to keep your car in good health. But it should be done on a regular basis—not "every so often." For safety's sake, Shell lubricate every 1000 miles. If your car has an automatic transmission, your transmission fluid level should be checked regularly. Your Shell serviceman can do this for you during Shell lubrication.
6. Never "gun" your car to warm up your engine. It doesn't help a bit. Matter of fact, it can do more harm than good, even increase engine wear. Many drivers also think it's worthwhile to idle their cars on a cold morning. But, with today's modern engines, it isn't necessary. It just wastes gasoline. Far better to start your engine, wait a few seconds until it's running smoothly—then be on your way, but at moderate speed.
7. Check a terribly neglected little accessory. People seldom give their windshield wipers a second thought—except when it rains. But wipers wear out too. Instead of wiping your windshield, they can smear and scratch it. Wiper blades are easy to replace—but windshieldshards aren't. Ask your Shell dealer to check your blades and wiper arms next time you see him.

your blades and wiper arms next time you see him.

8. Get a midwinter anti-freeze check. If you've had to add water to your radiator in the last few months, you may have less anti-freeze protection than you think. Let your Shell dealer check your coolant with a hydrometer—to make sure an extra cold night won't cause trouble. Reminder: If you got a Shellzone anti-freeze guarantee this winter, you're entitled to free refills, if necessary, until April 1, 1962.

9. Don't let front wheels hit the curb. Banging front wheels against the curb is tough on wheel alignment—and tires too. So, approach the curb carefully when you park. This sounds like a small thing, but it can help prevent costly front end problems. Suggestion: look at the tread on your front wheels right now. If they show uneven wear, your front wheel alignment may need attention.

10. Give your car an occasional change of scenery. A steady diet of city driving adds to the combustion deposits inside your engine. This deposit buildup can reduce your car's power and, eventually, may cause trouble. But many of the deposits that come with city driving will fly out the exhaust when you hit the open road. So, take your car for a turnpike drive this weekend. It can be good exercise for it. And a pleasant afternoon for you.

Lake Okechobee Chapter Of Demolay To Observe 43rd Annv. Of The Order

Sunday, March 11 through Sunday, March 18 will mark the 43rd anniversary of the founding of the Order of Demolay.

The main purposes of Demolay are the building of better citizens and creating leaders through the development of character in young men. The youth movement bolsters a boy's character by emphasizing the virtues of comradeship, reverence, love of parents, patriotism, courtesy, cleanliness and fidelity.

The entire program of a Demolay Chapter revolves about these seven cardinal principles. Demolay does not attempt to take the place of the home, church or school, but rather to supplement them with a supporting program of teaching good citizenship to the members.

The purposes of Demolay have assumed new meaning and value with the modern trend of increased juvenile delinquency. Sociologists have found that one of the main contributions in creating a new delinquent is the rebellion-stirring picture of himself as "Nothing (or less than nothing)." The very heart of Demolay — its ritual — is an excellent weapon for destroying a boy's feeling of nothingness and give him the feeling of being somebody.

Lake Okechobee Chapter of Belle Glade has planned several activities for the week's observance.

March 11 — The Demolays will attend the First Baptist Church evening service and will present their "9 o'clock Interpolation."

March 12 — A pot luck supper will precede the regular

Questions & Answers

THE SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX

You stated previously that there are special rules regarding the self-employment tax on farmers. Would you elaborate on this?

The self-employment tax, of course, provides social security coverage for self-employed persons. Normally a person must have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more before this tax is due. An optional method for farmers enables them, under certain circumstances, to pay the self-employment tax and obtain social security coverage even though their net earnings from self-employment are less than $400. Or, in other cases, it permits the payment of a larger self-employment tax than would be due under the regular method, thereby enabling the farmer to receive a larger credit towards social security benefits.

What is the optional method?
The optional method differs depending on the amount of gross income. If a farmer's gross income from farming is more than $1800 and his actual net earnings from farming is less than $1200, then $1200 is considered under the optional method to be the net earnings from farming. For example, if the gross income were $1900 and net earnings were $650, then $1200 may be treated as the net earnings from farming. If gross income is $1600 or less, then two-thirds of the gross income may be treated as the net earnings. If the gross income were $1500, then two-thirds of that amount, $1000, would be treated as the net earnings under the optional method. However, if the gross income were less than $600, then two-thirds of gross income would be less than $400 and no self-employment tax would be due under the optional method. Of course, if his actual net earnings were $400 or more, the self-employment tax would be due if he used the regular method. The optional method is only to be used for determining the self-employment tax, and then only if the farmer wants to use it; it is not to be used for determining your income tax.

Who can use the optional method?
All farmers can use the optional method except those who have gross income from farming of more than $1800 and net earnings from farming of $1200 or more. If either of these conditions is not present, the optional method may be used; other persons must use their actual net earnings.

How much income is subject to this tax and what is the rate?
The self-employment tax rate for 1961 is 4 and one-half percent of the self-employment net earnings, whether computed under the regular or optional method. However, only the first $4800 or $216. If you received wages subject to social security taxes, then the maximum amount subject to this tax would be $4800 less these wages. Let me give you some examples here; first, for the farmer who has not earned any wages subject to social security withholding.

If the 1961 net earnings is $5500, then the amount subject to the self-employment tax is the maximum of $4800, and the tax would be 4 and one-half percent of that amount, $216. If the net earnings were $5500, then only that amount would be subject to the tax, and it would be 4 one-half percent of that figure.

Now assume the farmer has earned wages of $800 subject to social security withholding. The maximum amount subject to the self-employment tax in this case is $4000. If his 1961 net earnings from farming is $4000 or more, the tax would be 4 and one-half percent of $4000. If it is between $400 and $4000, the tax would be 4 and one-half percent of his net earnings. There is an optional tax table in the Farmer's Tax Guide which lists the self-employment tax for any net earnings figure; this saves the trouble of the actual computation. Even where the optional method is not used, the net earnings figure, on which the self-employment tax is paid, is not always the same as the farmer's net income. Certain adjustments often must be made to net income to determine net earnings. These adjustments are explained in detail in the Farmer's Tax Guide.

Are participants in a crop-sharing arrangement liable for this tax?

The share farmer is considered to be a self-employed person and is subject to the tax. The landlord is subject to the tax if the arrangement provides that he will materially participate in the production, or management of production, of the crops and this participation actually takes place.
